Henry : Why did you cry so often?

Mio : I had to draw a picture every week but クラスメートと同じほど上手く描くことができませんでした。 So, I cried every week.

Henry : Really? You draw very well now. How did your teacher encourage you?

Mio : She said, "I like your pictures. Don't *compare your pictures with others'." Then she told me the good *points of my pictures. After that, I started enjoying drawing more, little by little.

Henry : She helped you have *self-confidence. I have the same kind of (ウ). I was in a *slump. My father said to me, "You should *believe in yourself." So, I said to myself, "I can do it!" again and again before my baseball games. My father also told me what to do. Without this, it's difficult to have true self-confidence. Can you guess what this is?

Mio : Well..., I think that effort helps us (エ) our self-confidence.

Henry : Right. Actually, my father said, "Practice a lot *until you can do it." It's important to do our best.

Mio : I think my daycare teacher and your father tried to teach us the same thing. Effort helps us (エ) our self-confidence. I want to tell it to children as a daycare teacher in the future.

Henry : You have a wonderful dream.

7 次の英文を読んで、あとの設問に答えなさい。

When we look up at the moon at night, it *shines with soft and peaceful light. And it changes its shape each day. Many of us are delighted to see its beauty.

The moon has been *deeply (ア) to our lives. A long time ago, people used the *phases of the moon to know the time and seasons. The first *calendar people used was the *lunar calendar based on the phases of the moon. It was made in *Mesopotamia about 5,500 years ago, earlier than the *solar calendar. Japanese people started to use the lunar calendar in the seventh century and *replaced it with the solar calendar in 1872. Some countries have been following the lunar calendar until today.

*Native Americans used a *full moon as a guide for *farming or hunting. They (イ). For example, the April's full moon was called the Pink Moon. It didn't look pink but they named it because pink flowers started *blooming in this month. And the full moon in October was called the *Hunters Moon because of ⇨ this reason. The moon was brighter so it was a good time to hunt.

In the past, people thought a full moon influenced our body and *mood in some ways. Today's research shows it may be true. *Researchers tried to find a relation (エ) the phases of the moon and human sleep and checked the sleeping hours of some hundred students for a *period of time. They found out sleeping hours of many students decreased on the night of the full moon. They were surprised to find out ⇨ the same thing happened on a *new moon night, too. They thought the moon *caused something in us to change and more research is needed to know clearly how phases of the moon influence us.

On December 24, 2026, the moon will come *closest to the earth, and it will look the biggest and brightest of the year. Don't *forget to see this beautiful full moon called a *supermoon if the weather is nice.
